Mount Lighthouse of Light [Valencia of Alcantara (Caceres) - SPAIN]

The seer speaks with our Mother:

Mother, you want it this way, and so it shall be: obedience, humility, strength, peace, and light for all hearts. May it be so, Mother.

Here begins our Mother's message.

My little ones, my children, may peace dwell in your hearts and the light of my Light shine in your souls.

Continue meditating on the Gospel of Luke, my children, so that you may come to know my Son more deeply through the Gospel.

I come to you in tears, my children. My Heart is filled with sorrow because of so many ungrateful people who do not love their God. They devote themselves to wars, hatred, lies, the filth of this world, and drunkenness. Where are you going, my children? Where are you going? Acknowledge, my children, that you are creatures of that God, my God, who created me and created everyone. You must obey Him; you must go to Him. Turn away from the miseries of this world. Keep your hearts clean and pure so that one day, my children, I myself may lead you to the Heavenly Mansions of my God, your God.

You must leave the ways of the world behind and live according to the Word of my Son, the Word of Love. How many people in the world are killing! They kill for pleasure, out of hatred, out of greed and the desire to possess, and because they want to place themselves above God. Where are you going? In the end, if you do not repent, my children, of your sins and your transgressions, you will go to Hell, where you will remain forever, for all eternity.

That is why I tell you, my children, as I have told you so many times: become saints, become saints, and meditate on the lives of the saints. Look, each person who venerates a saint in Heaven or on Earth takes something from that saint, not out of whim or fancy, but out of love for that saint.

Imitate them; you must follow their example. Saint Francis of Assisi, Saint Francis Xavier, whose feast day is today; yes, my children, and Saint Rose of Lima. Learn from their affection, kindness, and humility. That is what you must do in this world.

Ask for faith; with faith, all things are possible. And humility: if you are truly humble, my children, you will become saints. But the world is entangled in evil, hatred, and lies. That is why you must go to the Holy Church, to the Church of my Son, every day if you can. But do not forget that Sunday is a holy day of obligation. So, at the very least, once a week, go and be with my Son, and receive the Body and Blood of my Son, which give life. Without them, you cannot live; you cannot live, my children, without the Body and Blood of my Son.

Go to the Tabernacle. I have told you so many times: the Tabernacle, the Tabernacle, the Tabernacle. Nowadays, people no longer go there; they have stopped going to the Church of my Son and have turned their backs on Him. Where are you going? That is why I have told you on other occasions that there are earthquakes, overflowing waters, viruses that appear, and evil people who kill. These things are permitted by the Lord, my God and your God, so that you may realise that God exists.

Go and pray; ask that these things may not happen. You can help to restrain all that is evil. Remember the children of Fatima, my children, who helped bring the war to an end through their prayers. You, too, can do the same.

What has become of the family? Where is family unity? Where are those parents who no longer wish to have their children baptised in the Holy Roman Catholic and Apostolic Church? Be Christians. Consider the abortions and the crimes committed by mankind. So much crime, so much hatred, so many pleasures for the body! And yet people fail to realise that they have a soul and that they must give an account of that soul when they die.

That is why I come here and to so many other places throughout the world, as I have told you so many times. Ask, pray for the conversion of the world. If there is no conversion, things will go badly for you. That is why you must pray, pray very much, my children.

Do not forget what I told you on another occasion: not just one, two, three, four, or even ten Rosaries. What is that for a person over the course of a lifetime, when there is time for everything, but no time for God?

Therefore, my children, do not look to the world, for the world will pass away, but the soul will not. The body is dust; the soul is life, and it is the soul that will live for all eternity, either in Heaven or in Hell. So, my children, do not be afraid. I tell you, and I repeat it: I am your Mother. I am here to comfort you and to say to you: “My children, here I am with my Son, offering love, affection, and tenderness.”

Therefore, my children, come to me and to my Son. Leave the world behind and follow the work of my Son, the Gospel, which gives life, which gives life to mankind.

My children, make yourselves little, like children, so that your souls may be clean and pure. And when you are troubled, go to confession promptly, because you do not know the day or the hour when the Judgment of God, my God and your God, will come upon you. Woe to those who are in a state of disgrace! They will remain there for all eternity, my children, unable ever to leave and behold the Mercy of God, my God and your God.

My children, I love you and cherish you. I will always be with you, wherever you may be, whenever you say: “Beacon of Light, come to me.” I will be with you. And I want you to come to this Holy Place, because, my children, here you will find love, tenderness, peace, and well-being.

I cherish and love you all. But look, you must also pray for your children, for your children. Oh, how many children make their parents miserable through their troubled lives, their way of living, and their desire to think only of themselves, their whims, and the world! Therefore, pray for them so that they may turn towards the Light.

And you, my children, you who are married, cherish one another and love one another deeply, just as children must love their parents and parents their children, husbands their wives and wives their husbands. This is the way you must live. And I tell you something else, my children: love is repaid with love. If you love God, your God, He will reward you a hundredfold.

Keep walking, keep walking in love, walking in the Cross of my Son. And every day say: “Lord, here I am. May Your will be done. Do not forget me; do not leave me alone, because without You I cannot live or carry on.”

I love you so much, my children, and I weep for those of my children who go to Hell because they deliberately commit such grave sins and do not ask their God for forgiveness.

My children, keep moving forward. Walk slowly, yet hurry, because time is running out, my children. Do what the Gospel tells you; put it into practice, because my Son came and left the Gospel for the salvation of the world. And meditate deeply on the Passion of my Son. You must receive the Body and Blood of my Son every day so that your hearts may have life.

Keep walking in that love. Wherever there is hatred, bring peace; wherever there are lies, bring truth. Never argue, never criticise, never speak ill of one another. Let everything that comes from your hearts be love and peace, peace and love.

My children, I am called Beacon of Light; I am the Beacon of Light. Whoever comes to me will receive the reward of my Heart within their own hearts. I love you, my children, and I bid you farewell until we meet again.

And now, as always: my God, the Father and Creator; my Son, the Redeemer; the Holy Spirit, my Sanctifying Spouse; and I, your Mother Miriam, Heart of Mary, Beacon of Light, Beacon of Light, Beacon of Light.

Farewell, my little ones, farewell, my children, farewell. Cherish one another, my children; love one another.

Love goes to Heaven; everything else goes to Hell. I want you to be in Heaven, my children. Fight for Heaven, strive for it, for it is for all eternity. You will no longer see this world; you will see another, a better world, where there are no illnesses, where there is nothing evil, no resentment, no anger, no insults, and no envy. There, everything will be love, love, love.

Farewell, my children, farewell...
